

An abstract geometric pattern composed of black lines on a white background. The pattern includes a large central rectangle, several smaller rectangles, and a few irregular polygons. The lines are thin and black, creating a minimalist, architectural feel. The shapes are arranged in a way that suggests a larger, partially visible structure, possibly a building or a piece of furniture, with the pattern being a section or a detail of it.

[illegible]